PRESENTING

Lauded Arts

THEME : VOCAL PE LOCAL

Problem Statement

Historically, the big artists have always trumped the small artists due to their advertising abilities following a cash shower. Following the problem of ignorance concerning the artist society, a model has been developed that will give equal opportunities to both the small and large artists.

SOLUTION

In line with the vision of our Prime Minister Mr. Narendra Modi, we code harpers are calling for "vocal pe local". We are pleased to announce that we are targeting small artists who don't get the attention that big artists and art galleries receive, although anybody with a good piece of art can inspire their clients through the platform. The vision is there will eventually be a time when no artist with their work will be left out. We will allow artists to upload their paintings and will provide a platform for their work to make money from home.

Implementation Details With Tech Stack

We have created an e-commerce platform where a seller can show their work and also can sell their painting without any extra effort, they have to simply create an account on website and upload some information about paintings and then it will visible to all user and user can purchase it.

Tech Stack :-

Express JS

Node JS

MongoDB

WOW Factor

The wow factor is we are providing a platform to the small artist so that they can show their art and also can sell their painting.

The main features are :

- 1) They can show their art to the user or the people who are interested in this field.
- 2) They get direct order for selling their painting.
- 3) They can get instant money of their paint.
- 4) We are responsible for shipping that painting to destination with cares.
- 5) Small artist will feel proud when they receive orders

Future Work

The Project Lauded Arts is not only going to make a positive impact in the domestic market, but will also be a success in the international market as well. India is known for its art and culture, which gives us the responsibility to cover as many art pieces as we can. All those who believe that they can make paintings and sell online will be offered the opportunity.
